The COMINPRO project aims to strengthen the cooperation between the Romanian and Hungarian innovation related public research organizations (PROs). During the 12 months period we establish new contacts and exchange our expertise and experience regarding technology transfer practices. The project develops the current relations of PROs on both sides of the border. By the implementation of the project, organizations can get precise information about "how-to-do" successful cross-border technology transfer and R&D service providing activities. They get relevant tasks for further technology transfer activities, which will ensure the sustainability of the project. We are going to map joint R&D fields in order to map co-operation possibilities.

The project will contribute to create real business value from the innovative technologies and solutions of PROs in Timis and Csongr d counties thus having a positive effect on the economy in both countries.
